states in 1829-30. For thirty years he was justice of the was appointed Postmaster of Vergennes, office he held until the time of his large in the near future,

He was made a Mason in Dorchester lodge | ried on the 8th inst. at Vergennes, Nov. 8, 1821. He was deputy grand master of Masons in the state from 1829 to 1847, and grand master from 1847 until his decess. He also served as grand high priest of Royal Arch Masons, and as deputy grand commander of Knights dar in the state. As a craftsman it was said he was without a peer in that jurisdiction, in his grasp and comprehension of Masonry. It was added that his acquaint ance with the mysteries and history of Masonry and its jurisprudence was most profound; that such was the ability and erudition in his annual reports to the grand lodge that they gave him a national reputation, and that he thus came to be rep and extensively quoted as one of the first Masonic authorities in the country.

What the Los Angeles Session Cost-The Dactrines of the Order.

The mileage and per diem of the session at Los Angeles amounted to $44,053.50, only one-third more than the session held at Bos ton in 1886. No doubt there will be "howis" about "extravagances," etc., upon the part of some, but if they would only remember that those who, as representatives, have thu year visited California, have given years of their lives to advance Old Febowship and that such a trip, even if it does cost a little money, only a slight testimonial of appreciation. It is an event to be forever remembered to have such a reception and witness such sights as the representatives to the S. G. L. of 1889 experienced, and let none begrudge to these faithful brothren the tride it has cost.

The New Hampshire Statesman truly says There is no entitution whose doctrines, laws and lectures so tend to clovate and civiliza the human family as that of Odd Fellowship. Its first lesson is intended to humble human pride. Friendship is opposed to selfishness. Love is the enemy to harred and malica. Truth is the imperial virtue. The experience s the imperial virtue. The experience world has taught us that men are elevated and reliable in proportion to their rec-
